“The unity of this march (parade) is support for equal rights and equal protections for the Queer/LGBT community. We welcome all from our community, and allied communities and organizations to participate on that basis. We also acknowledge and support the struggles of our allies for social and economic justice. The march (parade) organizers reserve the right to prevent those who do not respect this unity from marching with us.”

Thank you for registering for the 2007 Pride March!

We are excited to offer this opportunity for all in our community to march together in unity and solidarity for the social change we want to see. You can march with signs and arm bands and make your political statement, but we also encourage all entries (businesses and organizations) to be as festive as possible if you would like. You can dress up, feather and boa up, costume up, and make this years Pride March on Broadway as exciting and festive as it can possibly be. Campy, wild, obnoxious and crazy all adds to this years theme of Queerfest 2007.

No motorized vehicles are allowed, but we are still encouraging businesses and organizations to be as creative as possible. We are allowing portable and wheeled floats (non-motorized of course). We have a 10 foot maximum height restriction for all entries. Music is encouraged as some entries will be having generators powering their sound systems in this march. We already have one business making a 10 foot Paper Mache Drag Queen on rollers to be festive and proud.

We encourage everyone to come out and be a part of this celebration and show of unity.
